Annual Subscriptions

I am asked to remind you that Subscriptions were due on January 1st. Non-payment by the end of March results in being ineligible to take part in any Club social events, all competitive and non-competitive fishing events organised by the Club. Your Committee strives hard to provide a varied and comprehensive programme throughout the year for which, surely, the Winter Programme alone is worth the current £19.00 a year.

Annual Dinner

This is to remind those of you who have not yet booked your place at the annual dinner to do so as soon as possible. The closing date is 18th Feb but the sooner you can book your place the more it will assist the organiser. Friends and family are welcome to attend. See the menu and wine list attached along with payment details.

Annual General Meeting

Thursday 18th February @ Harston Village Hall
A chance for you to air your views or, better still, get yourself nominated for the Committee, come on board and show us where we have been going wrong!

Winter Programme 2015/2016

Will tell us of the current situation at the Anglian fisheries and the prospects for the coming season.

February 18. Annual General meeting.

February 27. Invicta Annual Dinner.

March 17. Quiz Night.

With Chris McLeod setting the questions

Disclaimer: Statements, opinions and claims expressed in this newsletter are not necessarily those of Invicta FFC or of the Committee.

Any questions or suggestions on the running of our Club or ideas for subjects or speakers for our Winter Meetings should be sent to Paul Stevens for inclusion in a future Committee meeting. It should be noted that the programme needs to be finalised several months ahead.

The page has been set up and is hosted by Andy Newman and gives those joining it the opportunity to read comments left by other members and post messages of their own. So for example if you have visited a fishery recently that impressed you; want to sell that spare reel you never use; need a boat partner next week or know that a particular event is happening or just have some thoughts you wish to air, why not share it with others. The more members that use it, the more useful it becomes.

If you do not already have one, in order to view the Invicta Facebook page you will first need to register with Facebook; this takes only a few seconds. Once you have done this, at the top of your Facebook homepage you will see a box which says 'Search for people, places or things' type Invicta ffc into the box and the Invicta Facebook page will be displayed in the list; select this to go to the page. Once there, you will see a button near the top right of the page that you can select to join the group. Once Andy Newman has accepted your request your name will appear along with other group members and Invicta FFC will appear under Groups on your Facebook homepage. After that, anytime you want to go to the Invicta Facebook page you can either go to your own Facebook page and click the Invicta link under groups, or click the f icon at the bottom right of any page on our website.

Website News

For those of you who are wondering where David Jones' excellent winter meeting reports have gone take a look at the website. All Winter speakers' reports are now published on the website

<http://invictaffc.org.uk/news/winter-meeting-reports/>

The AMFC have recently started their own website so Invicta has decided to remove the AMFC newsletters from our own site. These newsletters can now be found at: www.amfcleague.co.uk

You will still be able to find details of the group matches which Invicta are involved in at:

<http://invictaffc.org.uk/events/>

There is also a new tab on our home page entitled "What's New". Here you will find listed the most recent updates to the website so there will be no need for you to troll through the whole site to see if anything new has been added.
